Chambersburg Borough Council First Ward

Candidate Bio

Allen Coffman has resided in Chambersburg's first ward since 1986 during which time he and his wife, Sharon, raised a family together. Allen has served the borough as a council member with deep experience in multiple roles, including president of council and membership on key committees such as recreation advisory, planning & zoning, board of health, parking & traffic, and inter-municipal water.

Working effectively as a team member together with Chambersburg's outstanding municipal employees and volunteer leaders, Allen has helped place Chambersburg in the forefront of state and national level associations by serving on various boards, including American Public Power, American Public Gas, and the Pennsylvania Municipal Electric Association. His extensive employment background in mechanical design, industrial tooling, and heavy-lift aerial transport has given Allen the ability to grasp key utility issues affecting Chambersburg's position as second-to-none in providing low-cost essential services to borough residents and businesses. Allen's 35 years of service in the U. S. Army and reserve speak clearly of his devotion to his country and his trustworthiness and dependability to his fellow citizens.

Allen is seeking reelection to the Chambersburg borough council this November 4th.
